INTRODUCTION

BACKGROUND

In June of 1975, the Idaho Governor's Council on Criminal Justice issued a report, which described the majority of Idaho Jails as being "Obsolete, inadequate, and incapable of complying with state law." It became quickly evident to the Sheriffs statewide that these inadequate conditions would soon become the target of litigation. Throughout the decade of the seventies, the Federal Courts had become increasingly involved in correctional matters, primarily as a result of inmate initiated Section 1983 civil rights actions. Faced with the prospect of spiraling liability and insurance costs resulting from such litigation, the Idaho Sheriffs' Association took the initiative to provide leadership and direction to bring about needed reform in Idaho jails.

In October of 1978, the Idaho Sheriffs' Association applied to the National Institute of Corrections for funding of a project to develop and implement minimum standards for Idaho jails. That project and subsequent efforts resulted in the establishment of the Idaho Jail Standards and an on-going mechanism for the inspection of Idaho jails. The inspections were conducted annually by a Jail Standards Coordinator and teams of practitioners selected from five regional areas. Each team assisted the Coordinator with inspecting the jails located within their respective regions. The Coordinator worked under a contract with the Idaho Association of Counties. Based upon the inspection findings, the Sheriffs' Association certified jails as Class C (short-term), Class B (intermediate-term), or Class A (full-term) facilities. The inspection process was governed by the Jail Standards Committee of the Idaho Sheriffs' Association.

Since the effort began in 1978, conditions and practices in Idaho jails significantly improved. There existed a high level of awareness among Idaho Sheriffs as to their legal responsibility to operate and maintain constitutionally adequate facilities. Within the often-limited resources available to them, the majority of Idaho Sheriffs took steps to meet this responsibility. Unfortunately, the Idaho Jail Standards were not regularly reviewed and were not updated to reflect the ongoing evolution of corrections standards, case law, or professional practices. The Standards remained largely unchanged from the time they were originally adopted ten years ago. The Idaho Sheriffs' Association became concerned that the Standards had become outdated and no longer served as a reliable instrument with which to measure the adequacy of jail facilities and operations.

In an attempt to address this concern, the Idaho Sheriffs' Association requested short-term technical assistance from the National Institute of Corrections for the purposes of evaluating the Idaho Jail Standards and making recommendations for revisions, as appropriate. The consultants' findings indicated a need for a major revision of the Standards. The consultant recommended that the following steps be taken:

1. The Idaho Jail Standards should be revised and updated to reflect the ongoing evolution in corrections standards and related case law and to promote professional practices in Idaho jails. The standards for the three classes of jails as currently defined should be scrapped in favor of two sets of standards -- one for short-term holding facilities and one for detention facilities.
2. Written operational procedures should be developed to guide the Jail Standards Committee of the Idaho Sheriffs' Association in the implementation and administration of the Standards.
3. Appropriate inspection instruments and related forms for documentation and reporting of inspection findings and follow-up corrective action should be developed.

With funding assistance from the National Institute of Corrections, the Association moved forward to implement these recommendations. The Association contracted with Mark D. Martin, Chief of the Jail Standards Division of the Nebraska Commission on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice, to research and draft the revised Standards. In addition, with the consultant's assistance, the Association established written operational guidelines for the implementation of the newly revised Standards. These guidelines defined the roles and responsibilities of the Association, the Jail Standards Committee, and the Jail Standards Coordinator with regard to the implementation of the Standards. The guidelines further defined a process for the systematic inspection, follow-up, and certification of Idaho jails.

Two sets of Standards were established. The Minimum Standards for Holding Facilities were established to apply to facilities used for the temporary detention of pretrial detainees for up to seventy-two hours, prior to arraignment, transfer, or release. The Minimum Standards for Detention Facilities were established to apply to full-service jails, which, by statute, hold persons who are:

- a) Committed in order to secure their attendance as witnesses in civil cases,
- b) Charged with a crime and are committed for trial,
- c) Committed for contempt, or
- d) Sentenced to confinement up to one year upon conviction of a crime.

These Standards are not intended to be used in any legal proceeding to establish a "duty of care" or evidence of a legal duty to any person or entity. Rather, these standards are intended:

- (1) As a statement of professional goals to be achieved;
- (2) To promote recognition of needed improvements, both as to facilities and operations
- (3) To promote operational efficiency, and
- (4) To encourage professionalism in the operation of Idaho jails

These Standards are intended as minimum standards for the operation of Idaho jails. They in no way prohibit the Sheriff from providing greater services, security, or programs to enhance the operation of his or her facility.

INSPECTION AND CERTIFICATION PROCESS

The Idaho Sheriffs' Association has established a means whereby Sheriffs can demonstrate compliance with these Standards in their respective jail facilities through a systematic inspection and follow-up process. Regularly scheduled inspections of county jails shall be conducted at least annually. The jail inspector shall have primary responsibility for jail inspections. (Revised 12/2013)

Following each jail inspection, the jail inspector shall prepare an executive summary of the inspection noting full compliance with any recommendations or noting items not in compliance with recommendations. A non-compliance executive summary may state suggestions to bring the facility into compliance and provide for a time certain to be considered for full compliance. The jail inspection check list and other documents pertinent to the inspection shall be kept along with the executive summary according to the Sheriffs' Association record's retention policy. A copy of the executive summary shall be sent to the Sheriff within thirty (30) days of the inspection process being completed. The facility must have met 100 percent of the Mandatory Standards and 75 percent of the recommended standards to be eligible for a Certificate of Compliance.

The inspection report executive summary will list the deficiencies and will provide a date agreed upon, but no later than November 30th of each year, to correct the deficiencies in order to be recommended for a Certificate of Compliance for the year. (Revised 12/2013)

The jail inspector shall submit a list of facilities that are in compliance to Minimum Jail Standards to the Committee at the December Jail Standards meeting. The Committee will vote to approve the list and facilities that are approved will receive Certificates of Compliance for the year.

The inspection and certification process is designed to provide Sheriffs a systematic way to address jail deficiencies. The Association recognizes that some deficiencies may take an extended period of time to correct. It should be noted that for those jails that are under a specific court order, which governs the operation of, or standards of compliance for that specific jail, they shall adhere to, and be judged by the appropriate court order.

INTENTION OF JAIL STANDARDS AND REVISIONS

These standards, and revisions, are not intended to be used in any legal proceeding to establish a “duty of care” or evidence of a legal duty to any person or entity. Rather, these standards are intended (1) as a statement of professional goals to be achieved; (2) to promote recognition of needed improvements, both as to facilities and operations; (3) to promote operational efficiency, and (4) to encourage professionalism in the operation of Idaho jails. These standards are intended as minimum standards for the operation of Idaho jails. They in no way prohibit the Sheriff from providing greater services, security, or programs to enhance the operation of his or her facility.

Following each standard is the designation of mandatory (M) or recommended (R)

PHYSICAL PLANT

18.01 The facility has a rated capacity established in accordance with these Standards. Except in emergencies, the total number of inmates in each cell or housing unit does not exceed its rated capacity. The number of inmates which may be housed in a particular cell or room, housing unit, or facility is based upon available square footage, sanitary fixtures, and other physical plant features as specified in these Standards. (M)
(Revised 12/09) (Revised 12/2013)

Existing Facilities

All Standards in this section shall apply to all facilities opened prior to April 1, 1990.

18.02 Recognizing the difficulties older facilities may have in meeting space requirements, the facility administrator of existing facilities may request that rated capacity be based on an alternate method of calculation as provided herein. This alternate method allows capacity to be based on overall "living space" available to inmates, adjusted for the time inmates actually have access to any specific areas. If the alternate method of determining rated capacity is selected, the facility administrator, together with the governing body, shall develop a plan designed to bring the facility into explicit compliance with the space-related Standards within a five (5) year period.

- 18.02.01 Inmates may be housed in cells, which provide less than sixty (60) square feet of floor space in single occupancy cells under the following conditions:
- a. Cells provide at least thirty five (35) unencumbered square feet of floor space;
(Revised 12/03)
 - b. Inmates are locked in their cells no longer than ten (10) hours per day; and
 - c. Inmates have access to a day room at other times which provides the additional space necessary to offer inmates access to a total of ninety-five (95) square feet of living space in combined cell and day room;
- or,

New Construction and Renovation

All standards in this section, except where exceptions are stated, shall apply to new facilities and renovation of existing facilities for which construction is initiated after April 1, 1990. In the case of partial renovation of an existing facility, it is intended that these standards should apply only to the part of the facility being renovated. The un-renovated portion of the facility would remain subject to the existing facility standards as specified in Chapter 18.02 through 18.27. The purpose in applying the Standards in this manner is to encourage local jurisdictions to proceed with making needed improvements to existing facilities where new construction or total renovation may not be practical in the short term.

18.28 In addition to these Standards, all new construction and renovation complies with all state and local building, safety, and health codes.

Planning

18.29 New facilities or major renovations, are designed only after a thorough assessment of needs have been conducted and the population to be served has been projected and described on the basis of research, data analysis, and policy review.

18.29.01 Prior to any physical construction, plans and program statements shall be presented to the ISA Jail Standards Committee for review and comment. Input provided by the Jail Standards Committee does not constitute “approval”, which must be obtained from appropriate governmental authorities.

18.32 At each submission of key planning and design documents to the county for review and approval, the architect shall certify, in writing, the plan's compliance with these Standards.

- b. Indoor exercise when weather dictates a need;
- c. Outdoor exercise;
- d. Inmate activities;
- e. Visitation;
- f. Confidential attorney visits; and
- g. Counseling.

18.53 Adequate visiting space is provided to accommodate the demand projected by the number of visitors, visiting schedule, and the requirements of Chapter 14.15. These areas may provide for either contact or non-contact visitation. Privacy partitions shall be provided between visiting stations and sound absorbing materials shall be utilized to reduce noise and privacy during visits.

18.54 A sufficient number of confidential interview areas to accommodate the projected demand of visits by attorneys, counselors, clergy, or other officials shall be provided. At least one (1) confidential interview area is required.

18.55 Sufficient outdoor exercise space shall be provided to accommodate the projected facility capacity, the exercise functions for which the space will be utilized, the maximum number of users at any one time, and the requirements of Chapter 18.40. At least one (1) outdoor exercise area of not less than fifteen hundred (1500) square feet of unencumbered space is recommended for jails of 100 inmate capacity or larger and 750 square feet of unencumbered space for jails with less than 100 inmate capacity. (M)

Operational Support Areas

18.56 Staff posts are located in close proximity of inmate housing areas in order to hear and respond promptly to disturbances or calls for help. At least one (1) staff post is provided on each floor of inmate housing. (M)

18.57 Newly constructed facilities shall be designed with a control center. The control center shall be designed to be secure from unauthorized access. Entrances to the security perimeter shall be controlled from the control center. The control center shall be equipped with release switches to open all cell doors in the event of an emergency.

18.58 “Overall, space provisions for the level of health care service provided by the jail need not be extravagant.” However, “some activities must take place at the facility and require appropriate space.” (NIC ~ Jail Design Guide, 4-104)

“Therefore, space shall be provided for routine medical examinations, emergency first-aid, emergency equipment storage, secure medicine storage and secure medical records storage.” Examination rooms will permit privacy during clinical encounters.” (NCCHC J-D-03)

“General conditions” as described in standards 18.33 through 18.42 shall be applicable to health services facilities.

18.59 Where food is to be prepared in-house, the kitchen has sufficient space for food preparation, serving, disposal, and clean-up to serve the facility at its projected capacity. The kitchen shall be properly equipped and have adequate storage space for the quantity of food prepared and served. Provisions shall be made for the secure storage of knives and other utensils.

18.60 Where laundry services are provided in-house, there is sufficient space available for heavy duty or commercial type washers, dryers, soiled laundry storage, clean laundry storage, and laundry supply storage.

Equivalencies

18.66 A variance from the specific requirements of the physical plant standards for new construction or renovation may be granted by the Jail Standards Committee on an individual basis to allow arrangements that would, in the Committee's judgment, provide at least equivalent conditions as would be afforded by explicit compliance with the corresponding standards.

18.66.01 When a variance from a Standard is desired, the facility administrator shall submit a request to the Jail Standards Committee outlining the proposed alternative arrangement together with documentation showing how such arrangement will provide conditions at least equivalent to the corresponding Standard.

18.66.02 The variance, if granted, shall apply only to the petitioner for the specific facility cited.

Chapter 19

Health Services Physical Facilities

References for standards:

- Idaho Jail Standards
- NCCHC Standards (J-D-03 ~ Specific to facility design)
- Jail Design Guide ~ A Resource for Small and Medium-Sized jails (NIC)
- Correctional Health Care ~ Guidelines for the Management of an Adequate Delivery System ~ Specifically Chapter 11 (NIC document derived from NCCHC)
- Isolation Rooms: Design, Assessment and upgrade ~ A resource document from Institutional Consultation Services

These standards are written to be applicable to new construction, or renovation. In addition, they identify facility standards that will be applicable to existing jails to meet certification.

There is a significant difference in the sizes of jails in the State of Idaho ranging from 8 beds to 1,220. The range of health service also varies greatly. These standards identify what “facility space” shall be required at minimum, as well as areas that may be considered.

19.01 There are three common areas that all jails (future or existing) shall have to meet certification.
(M)

- Examination area
- Medication/pharmaceutical storage (NCCHC J-D-01)
- Medical records storage

These areas are addressed first in the following standards.

19.02 For jails providing a scope of service beyond the three common areas described above, the following should be considered:

- Examination
- Medication/Pharmacy
- Records
- Urgent care / Ambulance access
- Inmate waiting area
- Sobering/detox
- Dental
- Lab

- X-Ray
- Control room
- Staff floor stations
- Conference room
- Interview rooms
- Support/staff offices/locker room/decontamination-shower
- Medical supply/storage
- Medical gas (tank storage and shut off locations)
- Single cells
- Multi-occupancy cells
- Anti-cells/Isolation cells
- Mental health
- Dayroom
- Exercise area
- Ambulance access
- Telecom-security, electrical, Mechanical (HVAC), plumbing chases
- Janitor closets ~ storage
- Staff restrooms
- Hazardous waste

I

19.03 Emergency Access ~ All jails shall have identified ambulance access to the facility. (M)

19.04 Examination Rooms ~ All jails shall have an area adequate for use as an exam room. (M)

- Whether the examination room will be new construction or converted existing space, adequate area is one that would accommodate physical examination of a prone patient.
- The area should allow sufficient room for security staff to be present for high-risk individuals. Reference documents suggest that an exam-room area should be no less than 80 net square feet, and it is highly recommended that the room be sized to the community standard of 100 net square feet. (R)

19.05 Exam - If the room is to be used for other situations such as emergency care it should be 180 net square feet to allow for gurney access. (Urgent Care: NCCHC J-E-08 AED recommendation) (R)

- The facility shall have an AED available to staff. (Also, see IJS 06.03.04.2) (M)
- The room shall be sized and arranged to allow handicapped access. (NIC 4-107, 4-108) (M)
- The inmate's privacy and the staff/facility security should be primary consideration in selecting or designing an exam room. The design will provide visual and acoustic privacy

but may incorporate blinds, vision panel or other apparatus to provide for selective observation by security staff. (NCCHC J-A-09 and NIC 4-109, 4-110 & 4-411) (M)

- The examination room area may be designed in a manner to accommodate a variety of use; however, sufficient combined square footage must be allowed. (M)
- It is highly recommended that exam rooms be located to provide direct line of sight from a constantly staffed security post. If there are to be multiple examination rooms, these should be located next to, or adjacent to one another. (NIC 4-107) (R)
- Shall be located off a main circulation corridor for quick and easy access. (M)
- Should incorporate panic or duress alarms, as well as have two-way communication via telephone and/or intercom. The design may include a status indicator light to notify staff when the room is occupied and/or door monitoring by the control center. (R)
- Cabinets and drawers shall be equipped with locks. (M)
- Lighting will be sufficient to conduct routine examinations. (NIC 4-411) (M)
- Should incorporate sufficient control for the room temperature. (R)
- Data ports for computer use should be considered. (R)

19.06 Medication Storage/Pharmacy Area ~ All jails shall have storage for pharmaceuticals that complies with the State Board of Pharmacy. (NCCHC J-D-01 and NIC 4-112 through 4-115) (M)

- Depending on the size of the jail and the population, the space for medications may be as small as a cabinet or as large as a full service pharmacy. Regardless, it must be in an area restricted to health services or security staff assigned to health service duty. The area must be secure from break-in with controlled access. (M)
- Consider the location of the pharmacy in relation to the inmate housing areas regardless of whether staff delivers medications or inmates go to the pharmacy to receive them.
- The medication storage areas must be secured and locked. Any narcotic type of medication must be double locked, such as a locked storage cabinet/cart within a locked room/closet. Further reference can be found in Idaho Board of Pharmacy and DEA regulations. (M)
- A facility must have a DEA License if that facility stores any narcotics on site. Schedule II narcotics must be counted daily by two people. (M)
- It is highly recommended that the pharmacy be located to provide direct line of sight from a constantly staffed security post. (R)
- If the jail has an actual pharmacy room that area should have sufficient countertop work area, a sink and a refrigerator. (R)
- Consideration should be given to incorporating panic or duress alarms, as well as has two-way communication via telephone and/or intercom, and data ports for computer use. (R)
- Consideration to be given for a med-pass window that can be secured and locked when not in use. (R)
- Consideration for doorway that will allow passage of any medication-push-cart/cabinet storage. (R)

19.07 Records Area ~ All jails shall have storage for inmate health records, which complies with restricted access and confidentiality. NCCHC J-D-03-4, NCCHC J-H-02-2 (M)

- NCCHC J-G-03 “A complete inpatient health record is kept for each patient and includes ...”
- “Secure health care record storage should be provided.” (NIC 4-115)
- “Health records are confidential and should be kept secure and separate from other inmate records and under the custody of medical personnel only.” (NIC 4-115)

“The key to proper location of health records is that they be accessible to health care staff work areas and highly secured from casual access by unauthorized staff or inmates.” (NIC 4-115)

19.08 Detox Area ~ All jails need an area identified to handle sobering/detox ~ See existing IJS 18.45 (M)

- In direct line of sight from a constantly staffed security post (R)
- Minimum of fixtures (R)
- Floor toilet/drain (R)
- Consideration for a “low 8-inch bench” should be given. This reduces chance of injury if a person rolls/falls off of it. (R)

19.09 Housing / Infirmary ~ Definition:

“An infirmary is an area in the facility accommodating patients for a period of 24 hours or more, expressly set up and operated for the purpose of caring for patients who need skilled nursing care but are not in need of hospitalization or placement in a licensed nursing facility, and whose care cannot be managed safely in an outpatient setting. It is not the area itself, but the scope of care provided that makes the bed an infirmary bed.” (NCCHC J-G-03) (NCCHC J-B-03 also addresses “Inmate Housing”)

“Patients are always within sight or hearing of a qualified health care professional.” “Call lights and buzzer systems can be a useful way of ensuring this.” (NCCHC J-G-03)

- Single Occupancy Cell ~ See IJS 18.47 (M)
- High Risk Cell(s) for housing suicide risk (no fixtures to tie off on, etc.) (R)
- Isolation Cell & Anteroom cell ~ See IJS 18.51 / Note: An anteroom differs from an iso-room in that the anteroom actually has a room in front of the cell/patient room, which further reduces the infectious particles from transferring to other areas. (Refer to Chapter 4 letter “H” in Isolation Rooms: Design, Assessment and upgrade ~ A resource document from Institutional Consultation Services) (Negative air ~ see below) /
- Multiple Occupancy Cell ~ See IJS 18.48 (M)
- Dormitories ~ See IJS 18.50 (M)
- Day Rooms ~ Health Services infirmary areas significantly differ from general inmate housing. For the most part the health services inmate population is quite transient with short stays until stabilized or recovered. Some of these inmates may be restricted to their cell for health reasons while others may be allowed to recreate. It is reasonable that the majority of dayroom standards (18.49) for general housing be applied in a health services setting, however, a reduced dayroom size is allowed. Those involved with developing the facility design will need to determine what portion of the infirmary population may reasonably be allowed out of cell at any given time. The square foot standard “per inmate” in IJS 18.49 should then be applied to that number to determine the amount of dayroom that will be required. IJS 18.49.01 and 18.49.02 remain applicable. Further reference: NCCHC J-F-03 (M)

Note: Dry cell housing referred to in IJS 18.46.02 is not recommended in a health services infirmary.

- Exercise areas: As stated above, sufficient dayroom area will exist to accommodate indoor exercise when weather dictates a need. An outdoor recreation area in close proximity of the infirmary is highly recommended. Outdoor recreation areas should be in close proximity to the infirmary and shall have walls at least 12 feet high, and be securely covered with expanded metal of a gauge no less than 11. (Refer to IJS 18.55) (NCCHC J-F-03 ~ “There should be a designated room or area, inside or outside, for exercise.”) (M)
- Negative airflow and other considerations ~ Cell areas should have HVAC balanced to create negative air. By doing this the amount of air from the cells mixing back into the dayroom and other areas is reduced, thereby helping to minimize contamination. (Refer to Chapter 2 in Isolation Rooms: Design, Assessment, and Upgrade, specifically letter “F”, also NCCHC J-B-01, J-G-04-5, J-G-04-6) (R)

19.10 Waiting Area ~ Appropriate seating should be provided for inmate waiting. (R)

- “Appropriate seating should be provided for inmate waiting. The waiting area should be adjacent to the examination area and, preferably, visible from a constantly staffed post.” (NIC 4-118)
- “Space for the inmate waiting area should be programmed at about 12 to 15 net square feet per person, which should be adequate for both seating and movement around the seating.”
- Design should minimize staff having to go through inmate waiting to access examination rooms and other space.
- Consideration should be given to including a maximum level holding cell in the waiting area. (High risk cell) / NCCHC J-D-03-7

A restroom and drinking fountain will be accessible in the waiting area. Note: separate restrooms for staff in other areas of the health services facility shall be programmed.

- If a lab is programmed, it is recommended to locate the inmate restroom such that a specimen pass can be installed directly to the lab from the restroom. If this is not accomplished a specimen shelf should be included.

19.11 Visiting ~ Video visitation is highly recommended. Due to the nature of a health services setting and the various health issues within such facility, limiting movement and exposure is better achieved through video visitation. However, it is acceptable to accomplish visiting using existing jail procedures for those who are well enough to participate. (Refer to IJS 18.53 & 18.54)

19.12 Administrative Support Areas ~ Refer to 18.63 and 18.64 (With regard to shower it is recommended that an eye-wash-shower type combo for decontamination be considered in lieu of a standard shower.) (R)

- Optional rooms to support Jail administration may be considered (Conference room, Library, etc.)

19.13 Control Center ~ Refer to IJS 18.57.

Note: If the jail has more than one control center, programming for hand off to the main control station should be considered.

19.14 Staff Posts ~ Refer to IJS 18.56

- Maximize sight lines to inmate areas for supervision

19.15 Laundry ~ Refer to IJS 18.60

- NCCHC J-B-02 also references laundry

19.16 Janitorial

- Consideration to specialized cleaning service of cells and contaminated areas.
- Refer to IJS 18.61 and 18.62 ~ NCCHC J-B-02 also references “Housekeeping”

19.17 Hazardous material/waste ~ All jails should have protocol for safe handling of sharps and hazardous materials (M)

- Consideration must be given to protocol for handling and where hazardous waste materials will be stored for disposal.
- The facility ensures that “sharps and biohazardous waste are disposed of properly.” (NCCHC J-B-01, 3-b) Consideration should be given to having a hazardous waste business pick up and dispose of such material.

19.18 Mental Health

- Housing (Variation of options from single cell isolation, multi-occupancy to small dormitory)
- Observation cell(s) for housing suicide risk (no fixtures to tie off on, etc.)
- Muted color scheme
- Interview rooms
- References: NCCHC J-D-03-5

19.19 ADA Considerations ~ ADA accessibility must be included in a portion of the inmate housing areas, clinic, dental, etc. (M)

19.20 Physical therapy considerations ~ Jails may not be set up to accommodate full physical therapy programs; however, consideration may be given to accommodation on case-by case basis. Example: stationary bike in a dayroom area, etc.

19.21 Dental ~ The size and configuration of a dental area will depend on the extent of service – x-ray, etc. ~ as example: ACSO is 122 sq. ft. per chair (R)

- No less than 90 square feet and may vary up to 150 sq. ft. for a single chair dental area.
- Consideration must be given to proper venting of dental compressor and suction.
- At least two sinks (one for cleaning and one for consumption use)
- References: NCCHC J-D-03-10 &11

19.22 Laboratory ~ Will be determined by extent of service.

- There are regulations in place for labs, so standards are not identified other than a statement to refer to regulatory requirements.
- References: NCCHC J-D-03-6

19.23 X-Ray

- Due to the various types of x-ray equipment it is hard to write a specific standard. (Traditional that requires developing vs. digital, etc.)
- Portable units, most do not require special wall lining, etc.
- Refer to building code regulatory requirements.

19.24 Storage and supply area(s) ~ All jails need to have adequate medical supply storage. Consideration must be given to provide adequate storage areas.

- Janitorial
- Medical/dental/specialty supplies
- Inmate supplies (uniforms, bedding, etc.)
- Office supplies
