Phil requested active participation to assist with the conference even if you are not on the Election Committee. Phil provided contact and sticker pricing for the Women’s Suffrage Commemorative I VOTED tickers advising that 123 Decal is making stickers ½ price.

Lawerence Denney, Secretary of State: Secretary of State, Lawerence Denney, presented with Chief Deputy Secretary of State Chad Houck, and Secretary of State Director of Operations, Foster Cronyn. Secretary Denney explained the promise of grant funding and match requirements. Secretary Denney authorized counties to expend the $2,500.00 funds with a guaranteed reimbursement. Secretary Denney explained that voters can change affiliation up to Election Day, however that may be different at the next election. Secretary Denney advised that he is working on a Campaign finance training manual for counties using the State manual with minor updates to address statute references and frequently asked questions. Secretary Denney advised that he has hired an Election Director who will start beginning of April and will be coming around to receive training from the ground. Chief Deputy Secretary Chad Houck provided campaign finance information and fielded questions. Foster Cronyn provided vendor and cost information for scanner printers that are compatible with Tenex and could be purchased with the $2,500.00 authorized by the Secretary. Foster advised they are working toward compatible bar code scanner options. Foster advised that they are working with 14 ALFA Counties to continue to test and work through Tenex implementation modules and that the UAT environment is 14 days ahead of the ALFA County environment. Foster reported that they just completed 35 software updates in Tenex and suggested trying the UAT environment if the ALFA environment is not working. Foster advises that he will provide release notes after every update. Foster reported that they are scheduling live training and counties will have access to their live data during training. Foster discussed Go Live Date options confirming that they still have some bugs to rectify and if unable to resolve, will find a work around and will not delay the implementation unless critical error issues are present. Foster will re-evaluate detail plan and communicate with Clerk’s for viability. Foster explained they are utilizing Social Security information using similar bank security which requires whitelisted equipment and hope to roll out within the next couple of days. Foster reported that Tim Hurst and Brett Brandon will write-up an emergency contingency plan to protect voting. Foster advised that UACOVA Secure delivery options are in the works.
